

Call for Posters

For the first time during the Symposium 2011 devoted to the 50th anniversary of the Orff Institute, there will be an opportunity to present posters. For example, whoever has presented an interesting project, worked on a special study or instrument building, developed teaching materials for music and dance, etc., can visualize a poster theme with photos, pictures, graphs, drawings and short texts. The poster size should not be larger than a flip chart. All posters will be on display for the duration of the symposium and should be self-explanatory. At scheduled times, the authors of the posters will be available for further information and discussion. Innovative ideas with a short description of the planned presentation can be submitted until the end of November 2010 to manuela.widmer@moz.ac.at.

The organization team of the symposium will make its choices known by the end of January 2011.
